

ORGANIZATIONAL SCIENCE GOOD NEWS!

*The monthly e-newsletter for the Charlotte Org Sci
Community*

Goodbye
&
Good Luck

RECENT PUBLICATIONS

Kronberg, A.-K., A. Gerlach* and M. Gangl (2024). Promoting Men and Women to Management: Putting the Glass Escalator Paradox in the Establishment Context, Social Science Research, 120, 103003
<https://doi.org/10.1016/j.ssresearch.2024.103003>

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Miguel Wilson and his colleagues from Summit Leadership Partners, Dr. Kevin Impelman and Elijah Jones, were a part of the Unmasking Destructive Leadership: Traits, Moderators, and Mitigating Factors symposium at SLOP for their project: "Non-Versatile Leadership and Dark Side Traits: Exploring the Moderating Role of Gender."

Sayoni Ghosh, Dr. Kendra Jason, and Miguel Wilson will be a part of a roundtable at the 2024 Annual Meeting in Montréal, which will take place in August 9-13. They will be discussing their paper: "Understanding a Sense of Belonging of Faculty and Staff in Higher Education."

Miguel Wilson completed the Penn Resilience Program 6-week workshop series! UNC Charlotte just offered it for the first time, and it will be available again in the fall.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Jordan Duran won $8,000 to work on his dissertation from the GSSF summer, 2024. It was a tough competition this year; 110 applications for 37 awardees.

Brent Reed was selected as the winner of the 2023-2024 Outstanding Graduate Teaching Assistant Award (Instructor of Record). This is a University-wide competitive award to recognize outstanding and innovative teaching techniques, and Brent is very deserving. Congratulations, Brent!

Jeremy Lewis has successfully defended his MA master's thesis, "Locked in, Linked up: The Interplay Between Platform Dependency, Solidarity, and Collective Organizing in Gig Work." The thesis involved collecting (with many obstacles) and analyzing qualitative interviews with gig workers. A job well done! Many thanks also to his committee members, Dr. Anne-Kathrin Kronberg, Dr. Anita Blanchard and Dr. Cliff Scott.

AND congratulations to Jeremy Lewis for winning the 2024 Sociology Graduate Student Research Award for his thesis on solidarity among gig workers!

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Kendra Jason is this year's recipient of the Bonnie E. Cone Early-Career Professorship in Teaching, which is awarded annually to a faculty member who has earned tenure within the last three years and who has demonstrated a commitment to teaching at the beginning of their academic career.

Jamel Catoe also defended his MA thesis, "Black Americans In Mexico: Motives Of Migration And Metaphors Of Self-Initiated Expatriates". For his thesis, he collected and analyzed qualitative interviews with Black Americans who found a new home in Mexico. His committee was Dr. Candace Miller and co-chair Dr. Anne Kronberg and Dr. Camille Endacott.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Dave Woehr won the BCOB outstanding graduate teaching award. Huge congrats Dave!

Congratulations to our May 2024 Graduates:
Dr. George Stock, Dr. Nicole Voss and Dr. Tarya Bardwell will be graduating on May 11th.

Class of 2024